Empowering People: Providers Shaping Policies

DEFENDING THE ACHIEVEMENT

Beginning in calendar year 2027, the potential erosion of Medicaid and SNAP funding because of federal legislation, "OBBA," risks the relatively recent and hard-won achievements made by individuals with I/DD.

The goal of ABCD's campaign, Defending the Achievement, is to maintain government investment in home and community-based services, health care, and safety net services, for individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities and delays.

A Spectrum of Care

Only in his family home does a young man begin exhibiting symptoms which over a year's time gradually escalate, risking his and his family's safety. No one would believe the parents until they shared their circumstances with their son's professional caregivers. Initiated by the day program and led by the support coordinator, this young man was diagnosed, became eligible for additional resources and placed in a group home which could provide appropriate care and support. "I'm happy." Watch the story told by Austin, Susan, Tony, and Jen.

Stories like these exist only because of the vision, commitment, support and partnership of federal and state government which began with the DD Act and Education for all Handicapped Children Act in 1975, the Civil Rights of Institutionalized Persons Act of 1980, The Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, the Olmstead Decision of 1999 and increased Medicaid funding for home and community-based services (HCBS). Despite these achievements, Medicaid and other resources remain forever in governments' crosshairs. For people with IDD, Medicaid is not simply a health care program, but the system that enables them to live in the community.
